2. General terms and conditions of use of the site and services offered

Use of the www.vedecom.fr site implies full acceptance of the general terms and conditions of use described below. These terms and conditions of use are likely to be amended or supplemented at any time, users of the www.vedecom.fr site are therefore invited to consult them regularly.

This site is normally accessible to users at any time. An interruption due to technical maintenance may however be decided on by VEDECOM, which will then endeavour insofar as possible to inform users beforehand of the dates and times of the work.

The www.vedecom.fr site is regularly updated by Marie Jouanny. In the same way, the legal notices may be amended at any time. In any case, these legal notices are nevertheless binding on the user, who is invited to refer to them as often as possible in order to be aware of them.

3. Description of services provided

The purpose of the VEDECOM site is to provide information on all of the activities of Institut VEDECOM.

Institut VEDECOM endeavours to provide on the www.vedecom.fr site information that is as accurate as possible. However, it can under no circumstances be held liable for omissions, inaccuracies or lack of updates, whether due to its own fault or due to the fault of third-party partners that provide it with this information.

All the information given on the www.vedecom.fr site is for information purposes only and is likely to change. Furthermore, the information given on the www.vedecom.fr site is not exhaustive. It is given subject to changes having been made after it is put online.

4. Contractual limitations on technical data

The site uses Wordpress technology.

The website cannot be held liable for property damage related to use of the site. Moreover, the site user agrees to access the site using recent hardware that does not contain viruses and with an updated latest generation browser.

5. Intellectual property and infringements

Institut VEDECOM owns the intellectual property rights or holds the user and exploitation rights to all the elements accessible on the site, in particular the text, images, videos, graphics, logo, icons, sounds and software.

Any reproduction, representation, public or private circulation, modification, publication, translation, adaptation (in particular adding artistic elements and/or elements of form) of all or part of the elements of the site, on any medium and/or any format, and whatever the method or process used, known or unknown to date, is forbidden, and this in any place, for any country and in any language for the term stipulated by French law and, in particular, the intellectual property code and the foreign law applicable where necessary; unless expressly authorised in writing beforehand by Institut VEDECOM.

Any unauthorised use of the site or of any of the elements it contains will be considered as constituting an infringement and will be prosecuted in accordance with the provisions of articles L.335-2 et seq. of the Intellectual Property Code.

6. Liability limitations

VEDECOM cannot be held liable for direct or indirect damage caused to the user's hardware, during access to the www.vedecom.fr site, and resulting in particular:

- either from use by the user of hardware not meeting the specifications set out in point 4 hereof,
- or of the appearance of a bug or an incompatibility or of hardware damage originating in the structure or composition of the hardware used by the user.

Neither can VEDECOM be held liable for consequential damage (such as for example loss of market share or loss of opportunity) resulting from use of www.vedecom.fr.

Interactive spaces (chance to ask questions in the contact space) are made available to users. VEDECOM reserves the right to delete, without prior notice, any content submitted in this space that breaks the laws applicable in France, in particular the provisions relating to data protection. Where applicable, VEDECOM also reserves the right to incur the user's civil and/or criminal liability, in particular in the event of a message of a racist, abusive, defamatory or pornographic nature, whatever the medium used (text, photograph, etc.).

7. Personal data management

In France, personal data are protected by Act no. 78-87 of 6 January 1978, Act no. 2004-801 of 6 August 2004, Article L. 226-13 of the Criminal Code and the European Directive of 24 October 1995.

When using the www.vedecom.fr site, the following data may be collected: the URL of the links through the intermediary of which the user has accessed the www.vedecom.fr site, the user's access provider, the user's Internet protocol (IP) address.

In any case, VEDECOM only collects personal information relating to the user for the need of certain services offered by the www.vedecom.fr site. The user provides this information with full knowledge of the facts, in particular when he enters them himself. The user of the www.vedecom.fr site is then informed whether it is mandatory to enter this information.

Pursuant to the provisions of Articles 38 et seq. of Act 78-17 of 6 January 1978 relating to data protection, any user has a right to access, correct and object to the personal data concerning him, by making a simple written request, accompanied by a copy of his identity document with the signature of the holder of the document, specifying the address to which the answer must be sent. This request from the user must be sent to the Communications and Publication Department of Institut VEDECOM.

No personal information of users of the www.vedecom.fr site is published without the user's knowledge, or exchanged, transferred or sold on any medium whatsoever to third parties. Only in the event that VEDECOM and its rights are taken over would allow the said information to be transferred to any purchaser, which in turn would be bound by the same data storage and amendment obligation towards the user of the www.vedecom.fr site.

The site has not been declared to CNIL (French data protection authority) because it does not collect personal information.

The databases are protected by the provisions of the law of 1 July 1998 transposing directive 96/9 of 11 March 1996 relating to legal protection of databases.

8. Hyperlinks and cookies
